

Practical Project Management for Non-Project Managers:

Providing a practical awareness of the project management language, methodology and processes in today's world

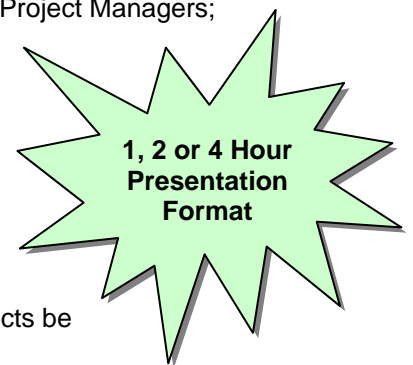

By Michael B. Flint, PMP

1,2 or 4-hour Presentation for individuals and corporations who are involved in projects

This presentation is designed to provide the non-Project Manager with an awareness of the Project Management language, methodology and processes. A non-Project Manager can be a Manager of Project Managers; could be a colleague of a Project Manager, or person considering becoming a Project Manager, or just someone who wants to know what the hype is all about.

The presentation will cover the following points:

- An understanding of the key components of the Project Management processes
- A focused review of key approaches for achieving success
- An understanding of some key roles & responsibilities and team expectations
- To show how the Project Management processes and methodology will help Projects be successful in your company, association or personal life

Michael B Flint, PMP

Michael is a Consulting Project Management Professional and President of MBF Consulting Services Inc. and has many current and past clients in areas of Business, Banking and Finance, Broadcast Engineering, Retail Commerce, Information Technology and Process and Systems Development.

Michael provides hands-on Project Management solutions, implementation plans; delivery and support methodologies and he specializes in Project Management Office implementations and Business Process Re-engineering reviews. He is now an advocate for providing Project Management Awareness training to all areas of the business.

With over twenty-five years experience in Business and Financial Management, Information Technology and Project Management, Michael has an in-depth knowledge of project management methodologies and practices, life-cycle development techniques, business process re-engineering techniques, quality (six sigma) and risk management processes.

In addition, Michael is a Director and President-Elect with the Project Management Institute \(PMI\) Southern Ontario Chapter, and has volunteered in numerous roles with PMI since 1998. He is responsible for the ongoing operations, administration and standards for one of the largest Chapters in the world.

Michael can be contacted as follows:

michael.flint@mbf.ca

www.mbf.ca